IPRCC edited and published the Yearbook of China's Poverty Reduction and Development (2012) which includes 246 paper contributions, 53 pictures and 1.06 million words altogether. As a large and comprehensive yearbook managed by LGOP, the Yearbook of China's Poverty Reduction and Development is a historical document reflecting the status quo of the poverty reduction cause, and an important platform which annually publishes the legislation and key documents related to poverty alleviation and development of the Party and State, chronicling the status quo of development as well as releasing authoritative information in this regard. 3 Advancing the building up of a database on poverty reduction
